Verse-

A#                                          D#              F#        F
Oh, spending all of your money on trendy haircuts that you read were cool
A#                                   D#               F#   F
And your probably alrite, but under these lights you look beutiful
A#                                        D#       F#  F
And im struglin , I can see through your fake tan
A#                                                                  D#    F#  F
And yeh you know it for a fact that everybodies eating out of your hand

Chorus-

D#                C#
   What do you know, O! You know nothing
   A#
   Yeh, But i ll still take you home, yeh I ll still take you home
D#                C#                          A#
   What do you know, O! You dont know nothing

(bass and lead play riffs, no rhythm guitar)

Verse 2-

A#                                        D#                      F#       F
Well fancy seeing you in here, your all tarted up and you dont look the same

A#                                    D#                           F#       F
Well I aint seen you since last year, and suprisingly enough youve forgotten my name.
A#                                       D#       F#  F
But yeh you know it, and you knew it all along
A#                                                                D#     F# F
And yeh you say you have forgotten but your fibbing and wont tell me i m wrong

Verse 3-

A#                                  D#                   F#        F
So your sold to the fashion, your a top shop princess, a rock star too
A#                                     D#                     F#      F
Wheres the love and the pasion? Well I spose thats nothing to do with you
A#                                D#      F#  F

But its alrite, O I ll put it on one side
A#  D#
Yeh cos everybodies looking, you got control of everyones eyes,
F#  F  A#
including mine.
