Yet Will I Sing
Audra Lynn

                Fm                  C#
Let this be the only love song I write
             Fm                  C#
May You be the only Love in my life
                 Fm                   C#
I asked You to draw me, I said I would run
                              Fm                 C#
So though I walk through the valley, yet will I trust
              Fm                       C#
I asked You to call me, I said I would come
                    Fm                     C#
So though I go up the mountain, yet will I run

Chorus:
          G#            Fm                  C#                 G#      Eb
Though my song be taken from me, yet will I sing; yet will I praise You
          G#            Fm                  C#                G#            Eb
Though the joy be taken from me, yet will I laugh; yet will I shout unto You
          G#               Fm                C#                 G#            Eb
Though the light be hidden from me, yet will I walk; yet will I run after You
          G#             Fm                   C#                 G#        Eb
Though my heart be slain within me, yet will I trust; yet will I follow You

Bridge:
                G#                                                Fm
â€˜Cause I know whatever You do, You do through the eyes of mercy
     C#                                      G#               Eb
And nothing can be added to it, nothing can be taken away
            G#                                   Fm
There is a time for every purpose under the heavens
             C#                                                G#               Eb
So though my weeping may last for the night, oh how Your joy, it comes with the light
