The Moon and St Christopher Mary Black (Mary Chapin-Carpenter)

Intro

When I was young I spoke like a child I     saw with a child s eyes
  F                  Gm                      Bb                  Dm7 C
And an open door was to     a girl like      the stars are to the sky
        F             Gm                          Bb                C
It s funny how the world lives up to     all your expectations
     Dm     Bbmaj7    Dm7        Dm        Bb        Dm7      C
With adventures for the stout of heart      and the lure of the open spaces
  Gm                      Dm7                          Bb                 C
There s two lanes running down this road
  F                        Gm
And whichever side you re  on
   Bb                        Dm7 C
Accounts for where you want to go
  F                     Gm
And what you  re running from
     Bb                    C
Back when darkness overtook me   on a blind man s curve
Dm      Bbmaj7 Dm7    Dm          Bb      Dm7        Bb

I relied upon the moon
  F        Gm      C    C/F#
I relied upon the moon
   F       Gm       C  C/F#
I relied upon the moon and St Christopher
   F       Gm       C                F    ( as intro )

Now I ve paid my dues  cause I have owed them     but I ve paid a price sometimes
 For being such a stubborn woman     in such stubborn times
I have run from the arms of lo         I have run from the eyes of friends
 I have run from the hands of kindness   I have run just because I can

But now I ve grown and I speak like a woman
And I see with a woman s eyes  and an open door is to  me now like

 The saddest of goodbyes  but it s to late for turning back
And I pray for the heart and the nerve

I rely upon the moon
I rely upon the moon
I rely upon the moon and St Christopher
  F     Gm       C                F     Gm  C
I rely upon the moon
I rely upon the moon
I rely upon the moon and St Christopher
   F    Gm       C                 Bbmaj7  Dm7
To be my guide
           Gm    F
