Acordesweb.com

He Broke Your Memory Last Night
Reba McEntire

```
G             Bm              C          Am7
Like a rare piece of crystal, like a fine china cup
D                                      G
I kept your memory all safely locked up
 G             Bm         C        Am7
Afraid I could never love somebody new
      C         C/B         C   C/B     Am7
I was trying to save what I had left of you

Refrão -------------
     G                          C
Then he broke your memory last night
D         Am7       G    D
I felt it shatter inside
G          B7        C      C/B Am7
I guess he held me a little too right
G             D           G
He broke your memory last night
--------------------

The moment he touched me with his gentle hands
Your memory crumbled like a house built on sand
He swept all the pieces of your love away
And then gave me his love to put in it s place

Chorus

He broke your memory last night
```