```
       G                Bm                 Bdim
It was raining on the day when we first met,
         Em7                   Am
But you held my hand and the sun came out.
           Adim                  G
I ve been holding my breathe ever since,
                      Bm
Cuz it doesn t make sense
        Bdim                      Em7                  Am
How a pricess like you could end up with a pauper like me,
                      Adim                         G
But so long as the story ends happily, I don t care.
