Listen
Christy Moore

```
A
    Listen to the whisper of moonlight on the water,
D                           A
    close you re eyes and listen,
A
    listen to the singing of the feather on the breeze, D                           A       E
    close you re eyes and listen, listen.

( A D A )

A
    Listen to the harmony of heart beats in unison,
D                           A
    close you re eyes and listen,
A
    listen to the rhythm of souls dancing  round the stars, D                           A       E       D
    close you re eyes and listen, listen, listen.

A
    Listen to the ringing of the distant bells calling, listen to the flutter of an angle s wings on high,
    listen to the rapping, and the clapping and the buzzing,
    listen to the snow falling gently on the mining town.
D                           A        D                            E
    Close you re eyes and listen,         close you re eyes and listen.

A
    Listen to whisper of the moonlight on the water,
    listen to the singing of the feather on the breeze,
    listen to the prayers of children to their blessed mother,
    listen to the pleading of the faithful to their fathers.
    A
         Listen!
```