

Rubber Bullets

10cc

(intro) A B D E

E A
I went to a party at the local county jail
E A
All the cons were dancing and the men began to wail
B A
But the guys were indiscrete they were balling in the street
E B E B
At the local dance at the local county jail
E A
Well the band were playing and the booze began to flow
E A
But the sound came over on the police car radio
B A
Down at Precinct 49 having a tear gas of a time
E B E B
Sergeant Baker got a call from the governor of the County Jail

C#m A load up load up load up with rubber bullets
C#m A load up load up load up with rubber bullets
F#m B
I love to hear those convicts squeal

F#m B
It s a shame these slugs ain t real
E B E B
But we can t have dancing at the local county jail

E A
Sergeant Baker and his men made a beeline for the jail
E A
And for miles around you could hear the sirens wail
B A
There s a rumour going down death row that a fuse is going to blow
E B E

F
at the local hop at the local county jail What you gonna do about it what you gonna do
F#
what uou gonna do about it what you gonna do

(solo) A B D E

E

Sergeant Baker started talking with a bullhorn in his hand

Em

He was cool he was clear he was he was always in command

A F#m B

He said blood will flow here padre

F#m G#m A

Padre you talk to your boys

A B E B E F F#m G#m D

Trust in me God will come to set you free

(G G# A Bb B C C#)

E A

Well we don t understand why he called in the National Guard

E A

When Uncle Sam is the one who belongs in the exercise yard

B

We all got balls and brains

A

but some s got balls and chains

E B E B

at the local dance at the local county jail

C#m A

load up load up load up with rubber bullets

C#m A

load up load up load up with rubber bullets

F#m B F#m B

Is it really such a crime for a guy to spend his time

E B E

at the local dance at the local county jail

E B E

F

at the local dance at the local county jail what you gonna do about what you gonna do

F#

what uou gonna do about it what you gonna do

(solo) A B D E

(solo out on) E