E                                                       A
My truck is stuck in the middle of nowhere,
B                                       E
I left my babe alone in town.
E                      A
My old friend liver,
B                      E
Don t let me down.

B                                                       E
Goodbye my old friend, is time to go.
B                                           E
My head is empty, with alcohol.
A                                           B
I lost my babe, I need to drink.
B                                                       E
So goodbye liver, please don t scream.
