```
C              D
She was a catch We were a match
C                          D
I was the match That would fire up her snatch
C                    D
But there was a catch I was no match
C                          D
I was fired from her crotch Now I ll sit around and watch
C                          D
The mermaids sun themselves Out on the rocks
C                        D
