I Still Believe
Kim Walker-Smith

```
    G                    C
Your blood makes the deaf to hear right now
    G                  C
Your blood takes away the curse right now
    Am                 C
Your blood heals every disease right now
    G                  D
Your blood sets the addict free right now

   Am            C          G                         D
And I still believe, You?re the same yesterday, today, and forever
   Am            C        G                 D
And I still believe, Your blood is sufficient for me

    G                     C
Your blood mends the broken hearts right now
    G                      C
Your blood propels me to forgive right now
    Am                     C
Your blood transforms my mind right now
    G                  D
Your blood brings the dead to life right now

   Am            C          G                         D
And I still believe, You?re the same yesterday, today, and forever
   Am            C        G                 D
And I still believe, Your blood is sufficient for me

        C                            Em7
You?re the higher power, darkness cannot stand
           C                      Em7
No longer bound to sin, I am free
        C                            Em7
You?re the higher power, darkness cannot stand
           C                      D
No longer bound to sin, I am free
