```
Am                  F
We are a generation twisted by a myth
C                     E               Am
Confused and ludacris holding on to love
                 F
Consumers of the pleasures in our misdt
C                                          E              Am
Alive with all the lips we ve kissed and losing all control
                  F
We gonna start a resistance
           C
We want independence
                                     E       Am
We are gonna give the world some of this
         F C E
Electric kiss
Am                              F C E
I m gonna change the world with my lips
Am                F
One voice forever we ll live together
   C                              E
In peace, love, solitude and happiness
