Faultlines
Suede

Intro: Em Am C Bm B

Verse (0:16)

```
         Em                        Am
With the sunrise burning into your green eyes,
                 C                       Bm     B
Adam and Eve on faultlines greet the golden dawn.
         Em                        Am
Is it birdsong or is it just the car alarms
                 C                       Bm  B
Making us feel so young, naked as the faun?
```

Chorus (0:52)

```
Em            Bm       Bm                 Em
Celebrate the pale dawn, celebrate the birdsong,
Em              Bm
Celebrate, this is your time,
Bm                                          Em
Although we live in the wreckage and on the faultlines.

                    Em                     B
And everything we own is not everything we are,
                    Am                     B
With every word we breathe, we live, we live again.

         Em                        Am
And you love me more than I deserve to be,
                       C                          Bm     B
The palace of cards you built for me is all just paper now.
         Em                      Am
Is it birdsong or is it just the car alarms
                 C                       Bm     B
Making me feel so young and savage like the dawn?
```

Chorus (2:18)

```
Em            Bm       Bm                Em
Celebrate the pale dawn, celebrate the birdsong,
Em              Bm
Celebrate, this is your time,
Bm                                          Em
Although we live in the wreckage and on the faultlines.

Chorus (3:10)

```
Em                    Am
Celebrate, there is no fear now,
             C             Bm  B
```

There is no fear now for us to feel.
