                     When these             memories  become liquid     dreams       Just like fantasies and like fallen leaves        I       guess           All I need is to find my             desires             and set out to acquire them
