The Byrds Lady Friend written by David Crosby

```
E                                   F#m
Here it comes again, it s going to happen to me
E                                        F#m
Here it comes, I should have learned to duck
               B  Bsus B       A          G#m   F#m
She s going to say,     she s going away
           E       G     A  E       G   A   E
And I will have to live without her and survive
E                                      F#m
Here it comes, it looks just like the last wave I drowened in
E                                   F#m
Here it comes, and I m so far from shore
               B Bsus B     A         G#m  F#m
She s going to go       and take her trinkets
           E       G    A   E       G    A    E
And I will have to live without her and survive

SOLO

E                                  F#m
Here it comes again, the night is going to fall
E                                       F#m
Here it comes, she s going to say good-bye
               B  Bsus B       A        G#m  F#m
She s going to go         and leave only me
           E       G   A    E      G    A    E
And I will have to live without her and survive.
