Will I cry c. Graham Pratt 1987.

F#                                B
3 o clock in the morning, the rain began to fall
F#                                  B
3 o clock in the morning was the time I got your call,
F#                                C#
and as I spoke to you from my cold and lonely bed,
F#                                C#
all I could think of then was what my mama said,
             B   C#                B   C#      F#
she said I d cry-y   she said I d cry-y for you.

                                   C#
I know the sun will come up, the rain will go away
F#                                   C#
but for now I have to live with a heart that s sad and grey,
 F#                            B
I can t think of a time that I have felt this blue,
F#                 B
mama I realise I should have listened to you, F#  B               F#   B
you said I d cry-y, you said I d cry-y it s true.

F#                           B
and as I sit here now, my love it seems in vain,
F#                           B
will you return to me and ease my lonely pain
           F#  B          F#  B          F#  B     E or will I cry-y, will I cry-y, will I cry-y for you.....
 B      C#  B      C#     F#
for you-u for you-u for you.....
