Referial Revenge - Your Smiling Face
Misc Unsigned Bands

This is the second song of my own creation that I performed. People really liked it. I originally wrote it for my friend.
My band liked it and decided to play it. Here it is:

(standard tuning and strumming)

Intro: C,G,D,Em,Am,G,D

```
C                G
I m lost in your embrace
       D              Em
and I see your smiling face
  Am            G             D
I wonder if you ever think of me
C                G
 Sometimes it s overwhelming
  D               Em
I need your arms around me
    Am        G         D
You just need to let it be

Chorus:
    C       G
You need me now
   D           Em
You re feeling down
  Am          G            D
I will always be there for you

You feel all alone
You seem solitary prone
You need a true friend
I ll be there for you
I will see you soon
Because I love you
```

Chorus (x2)

The second verse is played the same chord progression as the first. So fairly simple and you can make up your own melody for it.
I wish I could show you how the melody goes for it but I may put it on YouTube under Theangrybird44 so look for my channel on that.
