

Weight Of A Man
30 Odd Foot of Grunts

From Russel Crowe s new CD, My Hand my Heart. <http://www.myhandmyheart.com/>

My first tab but I m really confident. Hope you all enjoy as much as I do.

C          F
This could be heavy,
                  C          G
not as easy,as it seems.
                  C          F
Quite tough to carry,
a lot more inside,that no-one has seen.

Am          G
But you lying there,
          C                  F
you re not one bit scared,
          C
to shoulder,
                  G
a burden like me.

C                                  F
So don t close your eyes,
                  C                  F
turn your face to the skies,
          C                                  G          Gsus
and breath me as deep as you can.

Am                                  G
Your strong heart won t break,
          C          F          G
are you ready to take,
                  C          F          C          G
the weight of a man.

C          F
I m so hard to handle,
          C                                  G
my life s a suitcase that s never been closed.
                  C                  F
Don t know how you stand me,
          C
or how you love me, G
god only knows.

There s ghosts and there s witches,
there s black eyes and stitches.

They come with me,
it s part of the show.

So don t close your eyes,
turn your face to the skies,
and breath me as deep as you can.

Your strong heart won t break,
are you ready to take,
the weight of a man.
the weight of a man.

suspended on air,
because you re lying there.
you shift me slightly and find inspiration.

Cause those witches and ghosts,
play some havoc with their host,
you make me lighter,
you re my salva-tion.

This could be heavy,
not as easy,as it seems.
Quite tough to carry,
a lot more inside,that no-one has seen.

But you lying there,
you re not one bit scared,

C
to shoulder,
G
a burden like me.

C F
So don't close your eyes,
C F
turn your face to the skies,
C G Gsus
and breathe me as deep as you can.

Am G
Your strong heart won't break,
C F G
are you ready to take,
C F
the weight of a man.

C G
the weight of a man.

C F
the weight of a man.

C G C
the weight of a man.
