Mumford & Sons

Capo: 9th fret for studio recording

[Intro]
F
During this G there are some Hammer-ons that go a bit like this.(Not all of them are exactly like this, but it sounds pretty close.)

E|-----------|
B|-----------|
G|-----------|
D|---0h2---o-|
A|0h2---0h2--|
E|-----------|

[Verse]
   Bb           F      Dm            F
It came to the end it seems you had heard.
         Bb               F
As we walked the city streets,
    Dm           F
You never said a word.
        Bb           F
When we finally sat down
     Dm                F
Your eyes were full of spite.
      Bb                F
I was desperate, I was weak
        Dm           F
I could not put up a fight.

[Chorus]
Bb             F
Where are you now?
Dm            F
Where are you now?
       Bb             F
Do you ever think of me
       Dm            F
In the quiet, in the crowd?

*(This chord progression continues through the entire song)

[Verse]
          Bb                  F
You were strangely less than pain
Dm            F

Than you were cold.
Bb F
Triumphant in your mind
Dm F
Of the logic that you hold.
Bb F
You said no one would ever know
Dm F
The love that we had shared.
Bb F
As I took my leave to go
Dm F
It was clear that you didn t care.

[Chorus] x2
Bb F
Where are you now?
Dm F
Where are you now?
Bb F
Do you ever think of me
Dm F
In the quiet, in the crowd?

[Verse 3]
Bb F Dm F
And I hear of your coming and your going in the town.
Bb F
I hear stories of your smile,
Dm F
I hear stories of your frown.
Bb F
And the darkness can descend,
Dm F
We can relish all the pain.
Bb F
But I know that s what you love,
Dm F
Cause you know I love the same.

[Chorus] x4
Bb F
Where are you now?
Dm F
Where are you now?
Bb F
Do you ever think of me
Dm F
In the quiet, in the crowd?
