Golden
My Morning Jacket

Golden

```
B                           A
Watchin  a stretch of road, miles of light explode
E                              A driftin  off a thing I d never done before
B                         A
Watchin  a crowd roll in, out go the lights it begins
E                            A
a feelin  in my bones I never felt before

C#              B          E                   A
People always told, that bars are dark and lonely
                  B                      E
and talk is often cheap and filled with air
C#                    B            E                 A
Sure sometimes they thrill, but nothin  could ever chill
                            B               E
like the way they make the time just disappear

B                           A
Feelin  you are here again, hot on my skin again
E                              A
feelin good a thing, I d never known before
B                           A
what does it mean to feel, millions of dreams come real E                                A
a feelin  in my soul, I d never felt before   mmm

C#               B        E                  A
And you always told, no matter how long it holds
                                B                        E
if it falls apartor makes us millonaires
C#                     B                 E                  A
You ll be right here forever, we ll go thru this thing together
                         B                      E
and on heaven s golden shore we ll lay our heads
```