Cowgirl In The Sand
Neil Young

Bm                          G
     Hello cowgirl in the sand
Bm                            G
     is this place at your comand
D       A        G       A
Can I stay here for a while
D       A        G           A
Can I see your sweet sweet smile
Em    F#m               D          G
Old enough, now, to change your name
Em      F#m                 D      G
When so many love you, is it the same
Em                                                D         G
It s the woman in you that makes you want to play this game

Bm                      G
     Hello ruby in the dust
Bm                           G
     Has your band begun to rust
D       A      G         A
After all the sin we ve had
D       A        G         A
I was hopin  that we turn back
Em    F#m               D          G
Old enough, now, to change your name
Em      F#m                 D      G
When so many love you, is it the same
Em                                                D         G
It s the woman in you that makes you want to play this game

Bm                      G
     Hello woman of my dreams
Bm                           G
     This is not the way it seems
D       A          G        A
Purple words on a grey background
D       A          G            A
To be a woman and to be turned down
Em    F#m               D          G
Old enough, now, to change your name
Em      F#m                 D      G
When so many love you, is it the same
Em                                                D         G
It s the woman in you that makes you want to play this game
