VERSE 1:
      F                           Bb             C     F        F
Last night was a thriller, was a killer, was a damn good time.
  F                        Bb              C        F     F
I met a pretty girl and I wanted to make her mine.
     F                         Bb          C           F       F
So I took her for a walk and damn, that girl could talk.
                  F               Bb         F             Bb
But talked about all the pretty things and all the s----y things
     F               Bb          C   F          Fm and all the little things that fall between.

Wont you hear my one confession?

Ive been lost, but dear, Im found.
