Broken Stereo Acoustic
Sean Fournier

This song is licensed and written by Sean Fournier.
You can listen to him and download his FREE album on www.sean-fournier.com

These chords are the only one around right now so if you have any comments or please email me at phatmike115@yahoo.com.
Note: This is for the acoustic Album verison of the song, the normal version can be on this site
http://www.facebook.com/pages/Sean-Fournier/20348760103?ref=ts and is a half step higher.

Intro:

G# (Bounce on top string)

Verse:

```
 F#                      G#m
Why do you look so glum? Are you breaking
 B
Behind that smile that I know your faking
 F#              G#m    B                 B Bbm
It is no suprise. I see it in your eyes
 G#m                B
And they just don t lie
```

Chorus:

```
 F#                  G#m          B
If your life was a broken stereo, I d be music to your ears
 F#                      G#m                  B
and your fears would be drowned in my audio
 B
You don t hear me though
 F#                          G#m                B
And I d shed light on your worst-case scenario
 B
When you re crawling through the dark,
 F#            G#m                     B
My spark would light the way back home
 B
You don t see me though
 F#          G#m     B
And we could be so good.
 F#          G#m     B
```

Yeah we could be so good.

Verse:

```
 F#                  G#m
Why do you look so glum? Where are you weeping and letting go of dreams that you know you should be keeping?
 B
 F#                      G#m  B                 B Bbm
 Cause once you let them go, they re gone. (So long)
G#m                   B
But I can help you hold on.
```

Chorus:

```
 F#                  G#m          B
If your life was a broken stereo, I d be music to your ears
 F#                      G#m                  B
and your fears would be drowned in my audio
 B
You don t hear me though
 F#                          G#m                B
And I d shed light on your worst-case scenario
 B
When you re crawling through the dark,
 F#            G#m                     B
My spark would light the way back home
 B
You don t see me though
 F#          G#m     B
And we could be so good.
 F#          G#m     B
Yeah we could be so good.
```

Bridge

```
 F#                    G#m
I m in your vicinity, but you do not consider me.
 B
Met you once or twice, but you probably don t remember me
 F#                        G#m
 cause i go undiscovered. You confuse me for another.
        B
I make faces in a faceless crowd.
 G#m                        B
And I ve been screaming out loud.
```

Chorus:

```
 F#                  G#m          B
If your life was a broken stereo, I d be music to your ears   (Softer)
 F#                      G#m                  B
5ths)
and your fears would be drowned in my audio
 B
You don t hear me though
 F#                          G#m                B
And I d shed light on your worst-case scenario
 B
When you re crawling through the dark,
 F#            G#m                     B
My spark would light the way back home
 B
You don t see me though
 F#          G#m     B
And we could be so good.
 F#          G#m     B
Yeah we could be so good.
```

Piano Break: (Close but not exact)

```
-----------------------------------------------------------------------|
-----4------------------------------------------------------------------|  (X2)
--------6---5---0---3---3---5---3---1-----1----------------5--5--5--|
----------------------------------------3--------3---3--3------------|
-----------------------------------------------------------------------|
--4---------------------------------------------------------------------|
```

Outro:

```
 F#                          G#m                        B
Cause I m in your vicinity, but you do not consider me.
 F#                          G#m                        B
Cause I m in your vicinity, but you do not consider me.
 F#                          G#m                        B
Cause I m in your vicinity, but you do not consider me.
 F#                          G#m                        B
Cause I m in your vicinity, but you do not consider me.

 B  Bbm  G#m  F#
```