```
  B C#m7     B                                C#m7
       Hey baby, every man is the same come on I ll make you a star
                B
       I ll take you a million miles from all this
     C#m7                  B               C#m7
       Put you on pedestal, come on, come on
      Ebm                        E
       Have you ever heard those opening line
      A                                E       B
       You should leave this small town way behind
      Ebm                    E
       I ll be your partner, show you the steps
      A                                  E              F#
       Whit me behind your tasting of the sweet wine of success
      B                        C#m7
       Cause I ll take you to the top
             B                       C#m7 B C#m7
       Hey baby, I ll take you to the top
       Ebm             E
       Step on ladder, toe in the pool
       A                           E               B
       Your such a natural you don t need no acting shool
       Ebm                         E
       Don t need no casting couch, or be a star in bed
       A                            E            F#
        Never,never,never,let success go to pretty head
               B            C#m7
       Cause I ll take you to the top
       B                            C#m7
       I swear we ll never going to stop, baby
      B                    C#m7
       I ll take you to the top
      B                            E
       Don t let the world pass you by
       You better your chance now baby
            E                                        B  C#m7    B
       Or be sorry for the rest of your sweet loving life, baby
       C#m7             B                        C#m7
       Oh, sugar, hey sugar, I ll take you to the top
       B                   C#m7
       I ll take you to the top
       B                    C#m7
       I ll take you to the top,sugar
