People Always Talk About The Weather
Yonderboi

Notes:
The song depends heavily on instruments, so one guitar by itself probably will make you feel something s missing. If you can find another guitar that will play the solo simultaneously, I m pretty sure it ll sound great. I haven t got the chance to try it though, sorry.
The solo tab in the link below works perfect with this tab.

Am = 555775
G = 334553
Em = 000220
 You can do a trick in the bridge part. You should play not a full measure but half measure for the first Em, then quickly change to the second part of the intro in the link above. Easier with finger strumming, but not that hard with a pick neither, give it a try, i say.

[Solo]

```
 Am                      G
 Day by day I won t get younger
 Am                      Em
 I m afraid I m getting older
 Life is always getting faster
 Can t take me any higher
 Escape from fun
 Plan to see it all
 What I was looking for
 On one of those days
 Am                 G
 When everybody was seriously dramatic
 Am                     Em                Am
 Dissatisfied with something they can t change

 G                              Am
 Maybe they re still there all praying
    Em                  Am
 For break in the weatheer
    G                   Am
 For break in the weatheer
   Em
 (weather weather weather...)
```

BRIDGE

 Am                  Em        Em - Am
```
