                                (C) (F) Am
You are a thunderous thing, wondrous king
                                     (C) (F)
                                                       Am
The face of rival-less gods, deep in your thoughts
                                     ( C )( F )
Come here, oh, closer to touch, never enough
                                     (C)(F) (Am)
Let me climb under your skin, oh let me in
           C

                   F
From your lips a precipice

I hang from every word

Height and seeking
Oh we are reaching
New heights and seeking
How to keep them high
          Am
Keep em high
Am
The calm of turbulent seas, fallen to sleep
And when the troubles arise, we hold on tight
How can a body contain something so great
My shell may suddenly burst out will come birds
 Am
From your lips a precipice
I hang from every word
Height and seeking
Oh we are reaching
