

Ive Been Losing You

A-Ha

My favourite A-Ha song. Amazed this wasn't already uploaded to Tabs so felt I should do the honours. Works equally well as a hard-strumming pop song or a slowly picked ballad.

Play it open, but I've found it also works well with capo to third fret.

repeat: Dm

[Verse 1]

Dm G
 It wasn't rain that washed away
 Dm Am
 Rinsed out the colours of your eyes
 F C
 Putting the gun down on the bedside table
 Dm G
 I must have realised.

{Verse 2]

Dm
G
 It wasn't the rain that made no difference
Dm
Am
 And I could have sworn it wasn't me
F
C
 But I did it all so coldly, almost slowly
Dm
A
 Plain for all to see.

[Chorus]

So come on please now
 G C
 Talk to me; tell me
 G D
 things I could find helpful
 F C
 How can I stop now
 G Dm
 Is there nothing I can do
 F C
 I have lost my way
 Em Dm
 I've been losing you.

[Verse 3]

Dm G
I can still hear our screams competing
Dm Am
You re hissing your S s like a snake
F C
Now in the mirror stands half a man
Dm G
I thought no one could break.

[Verse 4]

Dm G
It wasn t the rain that made no difference
Dm Am
Nervously drumming on: Run away
F C
But I want the guilt to get me thoughts to wreck me
Dm G A
Preying on my mind.

[Chorus]

F
So come on please now
G C
Talk to me; tell me
G D
things I could find helpful
F C
How can I stop now
G Dm
Is there nothing I can do
F C
I have lost my way
Em Dm
I ve been losing you.
