Pleasantries Adam Green And Binki Shapiro Binki: What s in between all those pleasantries? How do you think most times Adam: C7 FmI ve been searching for some passion for my actions G Now you know that its full price Binki: G You know how and you know why You're not the bedroom type Adam: C7 Nightly fading, just what are you celebrating? Old fashions burn your short fuse dry Binki: Whatever this is, the pleasure s all his C Endlessly failing my dreams Adam: Αm No need to pretend I want you instead To council her excellency Binki: Can't be the first to say you re the worst Surely there s one or two Adam: I care more if you act as though you like me G Than if you really do

Binki: G Living a lie to a song you canâ \in ^mt hide The paintings are still in the tube Adam: Am I needed to fall, you need not crawl I punish myself with you Binki: С G What was between all those pleasantries What did you hope you'd find? Adam: C7 F Fm I was waiting for the chance you never gave me С G I'm still working on my line