Fighting My Way Back
After Midnight Project

Am
Standing on the corner in the city
                              F
It s feeling like prison
Am                                        F
Tried to hold us both but you got away
Am
I could have been a lover, could have been a fighter
                   F
But I didn t know how
Am                                                F
And every time you cried I had nothing to say

G
But I m coming back
                 F
Holding you to your words
           Am                G
You said All I had to do is try

Dm                          Am              G
I m fighting my way back to you
Dm                            Am                      G
They can try and stop me but I ll break through
Dm                        Am          G
I m fighting my way back to you
          F     Am            F      Am G
I m taking back, what I gave away

Am
I m tracing all the word that I couldn t say
       F
on the window
Am                                    F
All this frost stays as cold as I am
Am
I could have been a lover, could have been a fighter
                  F
But I didn t know how
G                                            F
Please wait for me, you better wait for me

(Chorus)

Bridge: Am G F x3 then E F G

Am
I could have been a lover, could have been a fighter
            F
But I didn t know how

(Chorus)

Dm       Am       G
I m fighting my way back to you
Dm                Am        G
I m fighting my way back to you
F                  Am  F   G
I have to take back all I gave away

Am
I could have been a lover, could have been a fighter
             F
But I didn t know how
