

In Your Room

Airiel

This song has only three chords and it goes like that the whole song. It is my acoustic version, cause you know, the song has a lot of delay and reverb. Enjoy it. Feel free of posting comments if something is wrong.

E F#
I always try

B E
to keep my eyes from closing besides

F# E
I still see you
it seems so right
to think of the time we could have tonight and it s so cold
it seems my hands
are colder than yours, warm me up inside your face turns red and so does mine chorus:
and we climb all around you stare into my eyes and watch me drown inside
you whisper to me softly as I lie

you shine so bright
a light inside my head i love the thought of staring at you
asleep at night
kaleidoscopic thoughts of me and you and you re just so cool for me to see the life we d have and we d tell everyone
your face turns red and so does mine
chorus:
and we climb all around
you stare into my eyes and watch me
drown inside
and whisper to me softly as I lie
