Am
Well, once when I was eight
E everything was going great
C F
until my father, he tried to kill me.
Am
By the time that I was nine,
E
my daddy was doing time,
C F
and my mother had enlisted in the army.

Am G C
I wish my father had loved me more.

Am
By the time was that I was ten
E
my dad s life was going to end
C F
cause he was going on ninety.
Am
By the time I was eleven
E
my daddy was up in heaven
C F
in the clouds, staring down at me.

Am G C
And I can t help but miss him
Am G C
Even though he hit me everyday.
Am G C
And he tried to hang me with a belt once.

Am G C
And he took nude photographs of my body.

C Am
And by the time that I was twelve, I had made my first million.

C Am
And by the time that I was fourteen, I had found the cure to cancer.

C Am
And by the time that I was fourteen, I was the president of the country

C Am
And by the time that I was fifteen, I was the champion of the world.

Am G C
So I m glad my daddy didn t love me.

Am G C
And I m glad that he tried to kill me.

Am G C
And I m glad he took those pictures of me.

Am G C
I am glad my daddy didn t love me,

Am G C
I said I m glad my daddy didn t love me
