

Long Long Way
Alan Jackson

It happens everytime I think about the reasons why I sittin here alone at night at night
not with you
The heartache takes control and lets me know just what a fool I was and how you cant
the things you do
And sorry just cant mend the broken heart Ive handed you, break apart is what most hearts tell you to do

But Im a long, long way from over you, dont think Ive ever seen so many shades of blue
They say that time will heal, dont know if I ever will cause Im a long, long way from you

[Instrumental Interlude]

Now over you just sounds like some lost city, people tell me how to find but somehow I never do

And maybe its because I never wanted to at all of course now I see that I had the best
you
That clock just runs in circles, the days just go on by, the memories hold me closer no
how I cry

Im still a long, long way from over you, dont think Ive ever seen so many shades
of blue
from
you

[Instrumental Interlude]

That clock just runs in circles, the days just go on by, the memories hold me
closer no
how I cry

Im still a long, long way from over you, dont think Ive ever seen so many shades
of blue
from

you

[Instrumental Interlude]

from
you
