

Paper Crown

Alec Benjamin

F F7M C G

A paper crown, and a heart made of glass

A tattered gown, and her kingdom of ash

She walks alone, can never look back

F G

The story of a queen whose castle has fallen to the sea

F F7M C G

She ll make it out, but she s never the same

F F7M C G

She s lookin down, at the scars that remain

F F7M C G

But you hold your ground, though your kingdoms in flames

F G

Cause it s the story of a queen who s castle has fallen to the sea

F G

Knowing there s no one who will be a king that will come and save his queen

F G Am

When all she needs, and all she wants, and all she finds

F G Am

When all she is, and ever was, is compromised

Cause there s no one to love her

F G Am

You built your walls too high

Am F G Am

And there s no one to love you when you build your walls too high

F F7M C G

She s looking out, from the war that s inside

F F7M C G

She s screaming out, cause no one survived

F F7M C G

But when you re all alone, you wait and you hide

F G

Cause it s the story of a queen who s castle has fallen to the sea

F G

Knowing there s no one who will be a king that will come and save his queen

F G Am

When all she needs, and all she wants, and all she finds

F G Am

When all she is, and ever was, is compromised

Am
Cause there s no one to love her
 F G Am
You built your walls too high
 F G Am
And there s no one to love you when you build your walls too high

Am G F Am G F Am G F
There s no one, who is strong enough, to save your love
F G
There s no fairytale, there s no fairytale

F G Am
When all she needs, and all she wants, and all she finds
 F G Am
When all she is, and ever was, is compromised

Am
Cause there s no one to love her
 F G Am
You built your walls too high
 F G Am
And there s no one to love you when you trap yourself inside
