Alela Diane - The Ocean

Fm
She was always walking singing to her footsteps

Bbm                      Fm
Dirt ditch paths and pine cones

Bbm                      Fm
Digging up glass bottles

Fm
Rusty springs from feather beds

Fm
Old hubcaps on the picket fence

Bbm                      Fm
She planted beds of flowers

Bbm                      Fm
Stayed outside for hours

Chorus :

C#                      Fm                      Bbm
In spirit she s drifted to the ocean

All those years of waiting for the water

C#                      Fm                      Bbm
She s watching long shadows caught in the tide

C#                      Fm                      Bbm
But the sunset by the sea is in her mind

C#                      Fm                      Bbm
The sunset by the sea is in her mind

Fm
And she was always hoping to someday leave the mountain

Bbm                      Fm
Domestic chores and children

Bbm                      Fm
The darkness of the winter

Fm
Painting all these mermaids

Fm
Wandering to the sea shore

Bbm                      Fm                      Bbm                      Fm
She wanted him to follow but his heart is with the hillside

Repet Chorus.

Fm
These days you ll find her walking
Fm
Singing to the deep sea
          Bbm                          Fm
But she will always love him
Bbm                          Fm
Lost up in the mountains
Fm
The sun set in the ocean
Fm
Gathering shells and beach glass
Bbm                          Fm
Dancing with the rogue waves
Bbm                          Fm
Gives her peace of mind
          Bbm                          Fm
But she will always love him
Bbm                          Fm
Lost up in the mountain
          Bbm                          Fm
Oh she will always love him
Bbm                          Fm
Lost up in the mountain
