                 Α
      D,A,D,G
 Write a hook, write a verse ,write a chorus, write a melody.
                    D G
            Α
                                                                         D,A,D,G
 Can t express how I feel without saying it the right way.
PreChorus:
D
I m doing better now, I m doing good,
                                             (break)
I m doing all the things I know, I know I should.
Chorus:
Will I find a way to tell her how I , how I feel about her ?
                                                             D
                                                                      G
                                                                            Α
Will she come to me and will she read my mind? Ohh
