G#m F# E
A somewhat inviting, very different of kind of hell.
G#m F# E
To live, without ever looking at yourself.
G#m E B F#
You see life is so much simpler when it s balanced on a shelf.
A F# F#
Thats been unperfectly placed there in the sun now look at how your e admired by everyone, Who sees you now they know your name. But is it real?

E G#m F# E
G#m F# E
All your bad habits have become your life s appeal

B E
And then it s where did you go wrong, where did you go wrong?
B E
When you re screaming where did you go wrong, where did you go wrong?
G#m B E F# G#m G#m B E F#
Well first of a-1-1, and worst of a---1---1.
G#m B E F# E E/F
you looked inside yourself didn t care much for what you saw
G#m for what you saw

G#m F# E
Can you imagine,did you ever play with dolls?
G#m F# E
You can protect your cotton heartbeat on the skin of porcelain walls.
G#m E B F#
You keep staring to your future through these marble eyes they show,
A F#
Everything I m never ever gonna have,
F# E
That s a giant pill, But swallow if you can.

G#m
You ll start again,
F# E

You ll change your name and be reborn

G#m F# E

and give in to all that has been torn

B E

And then it s where did you go wrong, where did you go wrong?

B E

When you re screaming where did you go wrong, where did you go wrong?

G#m B E F# G#m G#m B E F#

Well first of a-l-l, and worst of a---l---l.

G#m B E F# E E/F

you looked inside yourself didn t care much for what you saw
