

Wait For Me

Allison Weiss

This song is really nice and chordy and rather fun to play around a campfire or something like that. It's not the most popular song she's written but I really enjoy it quite a lot. SO MANY FEELS. Anyway.

Capo 3, in D# maj. You're going to have to know some basic finger-picking to play this song. If you really want to, you can use the flick and slap technique, which is very nicely explained here:

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=L_AXlHOXhCc

I feel it adds a good percussive touch, but it's not necessary. Other than that, though, this song only has a few changes that you'll get used to quickly with a bit of practice.

Chords used:

C F G Am E

0 1 3 0 0

1 1 3 1 0

0 2 0 2 1

2 3 0 2 2

3 3 2 0 2

x 1 3 x 0

A few more notes, there are little hammer-ons she does on C, Am, and G during the verses. If you listen to the song they're rather prominent. All you've got to do is unfret that specific string (for C and A it's the D string and for G it's the A string) and hammer back on in eighth notes. Another thing, during the verses there's this little chromatic line that moves up a fret from the G chord to the G# note, then rests on Am. All you have to do is move your finger up the E string from fret 3 to fret 4 on beats 1 and 3 before making the switch.

(Intro) C w/ hammer-ons x4

(Verse 1)

	F		C
I forgot what it
	F	G	Am
felt like to feel so alive	(G#)

So I m packing my suitcase and changing my mind

I forgot what it s like to look the things you want right between the eyes
G (here w/ hammer-ons)

It s never been so hard to say goodbye

I m back to the basics and waiting for signs

I m praying for patience and falling behind

It s not the way I meant to be, it s just how I m designed

I get so tired of running out of time

(Chorus)

I m missing out on all the places I could go
The people I could know, the nights so not alone
We ll never make it and it wasn t meant to be
But I ll wait if youâ€™ll wait for me

(Verse 2)

I m trying to remember your face in my hands
I wanted adventure, you met my demands
I told myself the day I left, â€œI want it but I can tâ€•
I fell for something far away again
I guess that it s pointless, but I mean what I say
I never expected through all this time that I could be okay
Yeah, all the things you do to me, the promise and the pain
I wish with all my heart that I could stay

(Chorus)

I m missing out on all the places I could go
The people I could know, the nights so not alone
We ll never make it and it wasn t meant to be

But I ll wait if youâ€™ll wait for me

(Verse Relapse into Bridge)

F C
I forgot what it felt like to feel so alive
F G (G#) Am
So I m packing my suitcase and changing my mind
F G Am G F
I forgot what it s like to look the things you want right between the eyes
C G Am F C G Am F
And say goodbye, goodbye, goodbye, goodbye

(Chorus)

C E F C
I m missing out on all the places I could go
F C F G (G#)
The people I could know, the nights so not alone
Am C E Am
We ll never make it and it wasn t meant to be
G F G Am
But I ll wait if youâ€™ll wait for me
G F G C
But I ll wait if youâ€™ll wait for me

Please e-mail naturada137@yahoo.com for any questions and comments.