                              C          (C)
Pretend you re happy when you re     blue
                      G7      (G7)
It isn t very hard to     do
                            (G7)
And you will find happi -       ness without
    (G7)                  C
An      end, if you pre -     tend./

                      C         (C)
Remember any one can     dream
                          G7          (G7)
And nothings bad as it may     seem
                          (G7)
The little things you haven t     got, could be
  (G7)                  C
A      lot if you pre -     tend /

                      G7          (G7)
You ll find a love you can     share
                        F        (F)
One you can call your     own
                  (F)                     D7
Just close your     eyes and you ll be     there
                  G9
You ll never be a -     lone./

                      C       (C)
And if you sing this melo -     dy
                          G7      (G7)
You ll be pretending just like     me
                          (G7)
The world is mine, it can be     yours, my friend
    (G7)                  C
So      why don t you pre -     tend
```

Break:
C -   G7 -   G7 - F - G7 - F -   C /

```
                       G7              (G7)
You ll find a love you can       share
                         F          (F)
One you can call your       own
                 (F)                      D7
Just close your      eyes and you ll be       there
                      G9
You ll never be a -       lone./

                          C        (C)
And if you sing this melo -      dy
                          G7        (G7)
You ll be pretending just like       me
                         (G7)
The world is mine, it can be       yours, my friend
   (G7)                       C
So      why don t you pre -      tend /
    G7                        C
So      why don t you pre -      tend /
    G7                       C
So      why don t you pre -      tend //
