

When Will The Spring Come Again
Amber Rubarth

(G) (D7) (G)
When will the spring come again
(Bm7)
When will flowers push up and blow in the wind (Em) (C)
and when will the clouds break and shower your skin
(D7) (G)
when will the spring come again

What kind of war did you fight what bulb burnt out, cause there used to be light the high noon I remember has been swallowed by night
what kind of war did you fight and where did your softness all go your skin s calloused over where it used to glow your eyes always bright have turned empty and dull where did your softness all go and how am I supposed to react when the one that was closest is clouded in ash the heart that beats strongest is caved and in black how am I supposed to react

When will the spring come again
When will flowers push up and blow in the wind
and when will the clouds break and shower your skin
when will the spring come again
when will the spring come again
