

Arms Of A Woman
Amos Lee

Hello all. I ve been using ultimate-guitar.com for years and have yet to contribute today. I believe this to be accurate. It is a combination of some others online and to the song itself. Amos Lee finger-picks these chords throughout but strumming with right timing sounds good as well. Send comments/suggestions to cjlloyd41@aol.com and download Lee on iTunes! Enjoi.

[Intro]

(finger picking)

A - D - A - E

A

D

I am at ease in the arms of a woman.

A

Although now,

E

Most of my days are spent alone.

F#m

A thousand miles,

E

From the place i was born.

D

But when she wakes me,

E

A

She takes me back home.

A

Now, most days,

D

I spend like a child.

A

E

Who s afraid of ghosts in my mind.

F#m

E

I know, there ain t nothin out there.

D

E

A

I m still afraid to turn on the lights.

A

D

I am at ease in the arms of a woman.

A

Although now,

E

Most of my days a are spent alone.

F#m

A thousand miles,

E

From the place i was born.

D

But when she wakes me,

E

A

She takes me back home.

[Solo] (Play around with Chords)

F#m

A thousand miles,

E

From the place i was born.

D

But when she wakes me,

E

A

She takes me back home

A

D

I am at ease in the arms of a woman.

A

Although now,

E

Most of my days a are spent alone.

F#m

A thousand miles,

E

From the place i was born.

D

But when she wakes me,

E

She takes me

D

Ya, when she wakes me,

E

She takes me

D

Ya, When she wakes me,

E

F#m (hold)

She takes me back home.

D

When she wakes me,

E

A

She takes me back home