

The Green And The Blue
Amy Macdonald

Intro: C (2x)

Oh the sky it always grows and the lights they never fade

There s magic in the air I can feel it everywhere

But the green and the blue come between me and you

But I will always be true to you

And the sun it never shines and the wind it always blows

The treasure that you you re looking for is right under your nose

But the green and the blue come between me and you

On a Saturday afternoon

I never knew I could feel so lonely

I never knew it would be truuuueee

I never knew I could see a night

Like this standing here with you

But no matter where I roam

No matter where I ll be

Something always brings me back to these streets

But the green and the blue

Still comes between me and you

On a Saturday afternoon

I never knew I could feel so lonely
