C/G

Tenuous at best was all he had to say when pressed about the

Am

rest of it, the world that is

C/G

from proto-Sanskrit Minoans to porto-centric Lisboans

Am

Greek Cypriots and and Hobis-hots

C/G

Who hang around in ports a lot, uh huh.

Am

(whitsling part)

C/G

Here s where things start getting weird

Am

While chinless men will scratch their beards, uh huh

C/G

To their minds a sharpened axe while

Am

brushed up on the Uralic syntaxes

G

Love of hate acts as an axis

F

Love of hate acts as an axis, oh oh

C/G

First it wanes and then it waxes

Am

(whistling part)

C/G

So procreate and pay your taxes

Am

(whistling part)

C/G

Ten you us ness less

Am

seven comes to three

C/G

Them you us plus

Am

G

eleven thank the heavens for their elasticity

F

C/G

And that s for those who live and die for astronomy

Am

(whistling part)

C/G

Am

(whistling part)

C/G

When Coprophagia was writ know when to stand know when to sit

Am

Can t stand to stand can t stand to sit and who would want to know this

C/G
