

Song No 6

Ane Brun

intro: D G D G

Verse 1:

D G D G

It would be so easy

D G D G

to sing a song about you

D G D G

It would be so easy

D G D G

To sing a sobby pink song about you

Chorus:

Bm D

I would spend three or four lines

(D)

On describing your eyes

Bm D

And then the next three or four lines

(D) Bm

On the dimples of your smile

(Bm) D

And then I would tell the world

(D) Bm

About the way you hold my hand

D

And they would

(D)

They would understand

Interlude: D G D G x2

Verse 2:

D G D G

It is so easy

D G D G

To sing this song about you

D G D G

What you are is inside of me

D G

Could easily be

D G

Could easily be

D G

Could be expressed through

D G

This sobby pink song about you

Chorus:

Bm D

I would spend three or four lines

(D)

On describing your eyes

Bm D

And then the next three or four lines

(D) Bm

On the dimples of your smile

(Bm) D

And then I would tell the world

(D) Bm

About the way you hold my hand

D

And they would

(D) Bm

They would understand

D Bm

And they would understand

D Bm

And they would understand

D Bm

And they would understand

Chorus:

Bm D

I would spend three or four lines

(D)

On describing your eyes

Bm D

And then the next three or four lines

(D) Bm

On the dimples of your smile

(Bm) D

And then I would tell the world

(D) Bm

About the way you hold my hand

D

And they would

(D) Bm

They would understand