B	----0-----0-----0-----0-----
G	----1-----1-----1-----1-----
D	----2-----2-----2-----2-----
A	----2-----2-----2-----2-----
E	----0-----0-----0-----0-----

Or just stick to E if you prefer

E
When all this mess will get me down I will depart from Chinatown

E
Weaving in and out of line, the sidewalk s full of merchandise

A
My nervous tick has got to quit, my cheeks are chewed down to the bit

E
Up on the roof they re still around the hustling crowds still reach down

E
I go up there and light a leaf and wish our turn was not so brief

A
I m paler than a summer blouse that s packed inside a haunted house

E
I pack my bags and feel the family here is cropped by many hands

A
That dig and plant me for the spring, come dig me out my lucid brain

A
this wilderness up in my head,

A

this rhythm that s up in my head,

A

N.C.

this rhythm it needs to get right out of my clothes and get into my bedroom.

E

Is there no reason it can t be the way it was, music and me?

E

My three best friends so casually just letting go so joyfully

A

But if I let my wrist get tired, but if I let my spirit cry out

E

There ll always be that fear of dying or is it just trying to divide?

E

It makes me think my dearest things are not what they re supposed to be

A

I trick myself when it is hard, I ve got to keep up, oh my god

E

And hope that I will not be wrong and keep my faith inside a song

E

And we ll make up morrow, which reminds me not to leave them back inside

A

this wilderness up in my head,

this rhythm that s up in my head,

N.C.

this rhythm it needs to get right out of my clothes and get into my bedroom.

E

lion in a coma, lion in a coma

E

lion in a coma, lion in a coma

E
lion in a coma, lion in a coma
E
who wants to smell the fine aroma,
E
lion in a coma, lion in a coma
E
who wants to run but cannot roam
E
a lion in a coma, lion in a coma
E
who wants to use his aching bones
E
a lion in a coma, lion in a coma
E
don t keep a lion in a coma
