Em                              C                 G
I shoulda known it wouldn t happen  cus it wasn t right
Em                        C                  G
I shoulda known it cus it happens every god damned time
Em                        C           G
Almost thought we coulda been something, almost thought we could have tried, but
Em                      C                 G
It didn t happen so I need you to get out my life

Em                      C                 G
But the other night I had you in my head, called you on the phone
Em                        C                  G
Want you stealing my time even though I said I wanna be alone
Em                                    C               G
Oh and I should know this could never work, oh, this could never end well
Em                            C               G
Know it s only human but I never learn, I want you for myself

Em            C      G      Bm
I can take the fall: the pain, the pleasure
Em              C     G     Bm
And you can take it all, for worse, or better
Em                  C               G                 Bm
But oh, what if we re wrong? What if we re not all that we thought?
Em                    C     G     Bm
Then we won t make it long, but hey, I guess that s us

Em                        C                        G
We couldn t help it but you know that doesn t make it right
Em                      C                      G
You say I m selfish but I know you felt the same inside
Em                  C                 G
Everybody says it s all okay, everybody says we re fine but
Em                        C                  G
Guess someone else is what you need to make you feel alright

           Em                      C                 G
But tomorrow night I ll probly call a cab, show up at your door
            Em                        C                 G
Love you in the night time, leave you in your bed, cold and wanting more
Em                                    C                   G
Oh and I should know this could never work, oh, this could never end well
Em                            C             G
Know it s only human, but I never learn, I need you for myself

Em            C      G      Bm
I can take the fall: the pain, the pleasure
