

Tomorrow The Sorrow Begins
Anthony John Clarke

[Intro]

E Am

[Verse]

E
Kids hold balloons coloured red, white and blue
Am
Their mothers cheer with them as they always do
F C Am
In my heart I m weeping, but I m cheering too
E Am E
Tomorrow the sorrow begins

[Verse]

Am E
Kids eyes are popping as they take in her size
Am
Champagne bottle explodes on her side
F C Am
She slips in the water, then away with the tide
E Am
Tomorrow the sorrow begins

[Chorus]

G C G
Waving as the last ship sails from the Tyne
C E F
I helped to build her, so, part of her s mine
C G/B Am
Sailing away with my hopes and my dreams
E Am E Am
Tomorrow the sorrow begins

[Verse]

E
Our Yard, it once employed thousands of men
Am F
We prayed for the good times to come back again
C Am
It never happened, our prayers were in vain
E Am
Tomorrow the sorrow begins

[Verse]

E Am
Guillotines and flanges now stand silent and still
E Am

There s such an emptiness no sound will ever fill
F C Am
As the rain it drizzles down, my last hopes to kill
E Am
Tomorrow the sorrow begins (guitar)

[Instrumental]

E Am E Am F C G/B Am E Am E Am

[Verse]

E
I got my letter, I was just numb inside
Am
I knew it would happen, but it still hurt my pride
F C Am
When I showed it to my wife, I thought that she would cry
E Am
Tomorrow the sorrow begins

[Verse]

E Am
She showed me the paper, there s work to be had
E Am
Down at the Call Centre and the pay s not too bad
F C Am
I said that I d go down there, I saw that she was glad
E Am
Tomorrow the sorrow begins

[Chorus]

G C G
Waving as the last ship sails from the Tyne
C E F
I helped to build her, so, part of her s mine
C G/B Am
Sailing away with my hopes and my dreams
E Am
Tomorrow the sorrow begins
E Am
Tomorrow the sorrow begins
E Am
Tomorrow the sorrow begins