Intro: [hD5, hD5, hD6, Bm9-A7s4] x2

Someone is tossing petals in a stream, somewhere	hD5, hD5 someone is standing at the foothills of their dreams. And	D6, D5 someone got a paint brush is painting over doubts, someone	D5, hD5 opened up his eyes and saw the sun coming out.	D6, D5

Someone was captive and found the courage to get off, throw a	D5, D5 boulder in the well, somewhere the rain has stopped.	D4, D5
Someone is finding the place where they belong.	hD5, D6-D5
(hey, hey)	D6, Bm9-A7s4

Well, everyday is summer, somewhere in the world and the summer boys are headed for the thoughts that kiss the girls w/ their impatient hands groping money, breast, & curls, they are filled with desire.

And high in the hills there s a baby being born as forgiveness and peace wash over bruises and sores, people bridging the distance over nettles and thorns.

Chorus:

And everyone aboard on the merry-go-round	hD5, hD5
some things will rise up so that others come down. If the	D4, D4
Devil don t dance, heaven won t shine it s a	D5, D5 mighty thick haze and it s a pretty thin line. If the	D7+, D7+

faucet is tight enough, the love won t flow, if the	D5, D5
love isn t bright enough the corn won t grow, if the	D4, D4
night isn t dark enough the moon won t glow.	D5, D6
hey! (1st time only)	D6, Bm9-A7s4

Intro x1/2

A rich man counting money, tired man counting sheep while the	D5 saint man counts his blessings, the angry man his beans. There s a	D6, D5 million people pray-ing, raising up their eyes to what turns	D5 out to be the same god, the same sky. And we are	D6, D5

slightly scared of death, a little bit afraid so we	D5 celebrate everything we can think to celebrate. We shall	D4, D5
sing out loud to keep the hounds away.	D5, D6-D5

D6, Bm9-A7s4

Chorus

Bridge: (pluck open 5th string when progressing from Bm to G)
Well, prisons will crumble, and governments will fall it s the	Bm, G order of freedom to be preceded by walls. Cause the	D5, D7+ truth would be worthless, if no one ever lied so we	Bm, G carry our shame in the interest of pride. And we	D5, D7+ have all these questions to make us go roam, and we	Bm, G got all this distance to make us come home. As the	D5, D7+ sun burns the child learns the tide churns the world...	Bm, D7+ turns.	G (hold), D7+

Chorus: (hold chords w/ tap for 1st half)

And everyone aboard on the merry-go-round	hD5
some things will rise up so that others come down. If the	D4
Devil don t dance, heaven won t shine it s a	D5 mighty thick haze and it s a pretty thin line. If the	D7+

faucet is tight enough, the love won t flow, if the	D5, D5
love isn t bright enough the corn won t grow, if the	D4, D4
night isn t dark enough the moon won t glow.	D5, D6

End - D6, D4-hD5
