VERSE 1:

I m a sucker for a pretty face
 And you re as pretty as they come
                    A7
 So what if the conversation
                          G# (C)
Leaves me absolutely numb?
VERSE 2:
            Fm
                  C
Cause you re so enchanting
 When your mouth is closed
                             A7
   But with a mouth like that
 Who needs politics and prose?
CHORUS 1:
                          Em
Now I m staring into those vacant eyes
 Trying to figure out if you ve
                    Em Ebm
 Understood a single word that I ve said
               Bb
 Is there anything going on in that pretty little head?
 Cause if you re just drop dead gorgeous
                G#
            G
 You should just drop dead
VERSE 3:
                   Fm
 A face that could launch a thousand ships
       Fm
 And a smile so bright it could stop... a train
                {\tt Bb}
                         Α
 Won t do you no good, ah baby if you can t
 Back it all up with the brains

Now I m staring into those vacant eyes
Dm
 Trying to figure out if you ve
                       Em
                                Ebm
                                      Dm
  Understood a single word that I ve said
G
                                                     Fm
  Is there anything going on in that pretty little head?
  Cause if you re just drop dead gorgeous
                   G#
 You should just drop dead
BRIDGE:
Em
 Baby, don t change on account of me
Em
  Cause I like em pretty but I, I need em quick and witty
  And, if that s the best of you
  If there is nothing to the rest of you
Dm
 A pretty face is all you ll ever be to me
 CHORUS 3 [key change]:
                         Fm
  I m staring into those vacant eyes
Ebm
                    G#
 Trying to figure out if you ve
                                 Em
                                      Ebm
                       Fm
 Understood a single word that I ve said
G#
                          В
                                      Ebm
  Is there anything going on in that pretty little head?
                   C#
                                  F#m
