This is a brilliant song which was actually written by Ben Jose

Its a great song so here you are and enjoy!!!!

I Can t Satisfy Your Love

Intro: G C Em D C D E D C

When you re world started to crumble I helped you get through it all, ${\tt G} \hspace{1cm} {\tt Em} \hspace{1cm} {\tt D}$

C

I helped you to stand up tall,

Em

D C

And in times of hardship I was always ready to catch you as you started to fall, ${f G}$

D C

But you say that s not enough,

C D Em D C

You say that it s too tough,

C D Em D C

Well then I might as well give up, If I cant have your love.

C D Em D C

D

Em D C D Em D C

When all those around you turned away I stood by you strong,

G C Em D C

And when you were weak I gave you the strength to carry on,

G C Em

D

But now I ve waited for too long,

Em

Em D C

Because I need your love

C D Em Em D C

But you say I m not enough,

So I might as well give up, if I can t have your love.

             D
        D
 Em D C D Em D C
When there was no - one else I was a shoulder on which you cried,
      C
still you say you don t want me but darling there s nothing I haven t tried, G
                                       C
                        D
      To have you by my side,
                                                                                     \mathbf{Em}
        C
   So you can keep your love,
C D Em
                     D
  because you made it too tough,
  Now I m willing to give up, because I don t want your love,
              Em
                          D
 Em D C D Em D C
So now when there s no - one else I will not be there waiting for you,
                                                     C
D
Because I m sick and tired of the heart ache you put me through
                                    C
                      G
                                                      \mathbf{Em}
      C
  So you can keep you love
C D Em
                                       C
  I don t want your love
C D
                                                 C
             \mathbf{E}\mathbf{m}
