

Lying In The Bed Ive Made Aqueduct

Most of this song is actually keyboard and synthesiser. If you play this while singing it will sound right and You should get through playing along with the album just fine, but the fact is that it won t sound identical because we are changing instruments. With that obvious statement out of the way, on with the kick-ass song.

Main Riff. Start in a cadd9 position and use your index finger for the 6th string, with your pinky playing the last note. It s easier than it sounds, but I don t recommend picking for this as it s all over the fret board. It sounds better if you let the notes ring out as much as possible. Note that this is identical to the piano line after the intro.

I ve been a father to you all
In spite of what you ve heard
and for the most part,
I ve been a perfect stranger too
In spite of wat you ve heard
You ve made me painfull aware
Of what you think of me
And for the most part,
O m starting to believe it true
I put my faith in you

thats why I m singing saying

G Eb Ab
Sorry songs I sing

C
To amuse myself

G
I need to hear your voice

Eb Ab
Carry all my weight

Ab C F (note: This sounds weird, but If while playing along with the song F was the chord I could find)

main riff (there are some variations and I've included them at the end if you want to them)

I've been a lover to the ones
You'd never realize
And for the most part,
I've been a liar all my life
In spite of what you've heard
a centimeter of a man
I measure up to be
And for the most part,
I might be lonely all my life
I'm lying in the bed I've made

G Eb Ab
Sorry songs I sing

C
To amuse myself

G
I need to hear your voice

Ab
Carry on

So I'm singing saying

G Eb Ab
Sorry songs I sing

C
To amuse myself

G
I need to hear your voice

Eb Ab C
Carry all my weight

F Eb
I know it's not too late

G (I'm not sure about this G)
your making a mistake

At this point he sings all of the verses at once, So I won't bother transcribing . Same as before.

Ending notes:

----10-8-----|
-----9-----|
-----10-----

alternate riff (*same bass note as before):

Drop off at end of riff:
