Last week I was looking for this beautiful song s chords on the web and I didn t find anything, so I figured them out. There you go. Standard Tuning.

INTRO: Em Bm (handful of times)

Em Bm Em Bm
Some men are prone to misadventure
Em Bm Em Bm
Questions of guilt aren t always clear
G D Em Bm
Some men run from a fate they can t avoid
Em Bm Em Bm
All men choose the path they walk

(same progression for the rest of the song)

Some men can be faulted for their reason
Feigning to justly intervene
Some men hide from the memories that haunt
All men choose the path they walk

Some men see everything through duty
Cast off responsibility
Some regret that their courage sometimes fails
All men choose the path they walk

Some men have attitude that s righteous
Care not about the consequence
Some men fight with the violence inside
All men choose the path they walk

Some men have reached their destination
Finding their own serenity
Some men lead others till they recognize
That all men choose the path they walk
